About Jony Arboleda

Jony Arboleda is joining Marks & Harrison as our Director of Spanish Services and will be working across our fourteen offices in Virginia and Washington D.C. With many years of legal experience, Jony brings deep expertise and dedication to client advocacy to the Marks & Harrison team and its Spanish-speaking clients.

Jony holds a Bachelor of Law degree from the University of Caldas in Colombia and then obtained his post-Law Degree in public and private management from Externado University. He worked as a mediator and conciliator with the Chamber of Commerce in Colombia before moving to the United States and obtaining a master's degree from William & Mary Law School in 2018. Since then, Jony has passed the D.C. bar exam and is an active member in good standing. In addition to a number of positions held in South America, he has worked in the legal field in both Texas and Virginia.

Jony will use his multilingual skills to assist the firm's Hispanic clients in navigating the many challenges after a personal injury or injury at work. Marks & Harrison affirms its commitment to a diverse community and will continue their long history of providing extraordinary services to those who have been injured, no matter what language they speak.
